FINDS HIS SALOON ISN'T HIS, SO CAUSES ARREST OF MEN WHO SOLD IT

Schmidt's Revenge Comes When The World Takes Up the Complaint of Another.

On information supplied by The World and Detectives Conroy and Enright of the Third Branch Detective Bureau, Magistrate House in the Harem Court yesterday held James Mc-Bregor of No. 44 West Thirty-sixth Street in $5,000 bail for the Grand Jury on a charge of grand larceny pre-ferred by Otto Schmidt, a blacksmith, of New Rochelle.

McGregor in January last adverused for a partner with $1,000 to go into the saloon business. Schmidt answered the advertisement and says he gave $1,000 as his share of the purchase price of a saloon at No. 134 Willis avenue, the Bronz. McGregor, it is said, represented to Schmidt that the saloon was doing a prosperous siness and that the only mortgage in the place was a chattel mortgage

DISCUSS PATRONAGE ROW.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 .- Members of he Senate judiciary sub-committee appointed to inquire into constitutional phases of the patronage dispute between the Senate and President Wilson discussed their task informally yesterday. Senator Culberson, the Chairman, said last night a meeting would be called in a day or two.

Should the committee report that the President exceeded his constitutional authority it is said the only remedy, in case any should be sought, would be to submit the case to the House with a view to impeachment proceedings.

How to Settle a Home Is the Big Problem

Thousands of couples have depended on us to straighten out their needs for new homes and reduce their big problem to a small one. We have had real pleasure in helping them. May we help you?

We have a real service to offer and we will appreciate a chance to talk it over with you.

We're willing to talk in the thousands of dollars for home outfits and glad to talk in the hundreds, or one hundred, for that matter.

Whatever you pay, our quality, which means your quality—and which means your quality, which means your quality—and that is DEPENDABLE QUAL-ITY—is furnished in every article of furniture and yard of floor coverings.
